Honorable Wilber M. Brucker
Secretary of the Army
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Wilber:

I very much appreciate your good letter of 30 March inviting me to attend PROJECT MAN at Fort Benning, Georgia from 2 - 4 May.

I certainly wish it were possible for me to join you at what I am sure will be a most impressive demonstration. Unfortunately, however, I have two long-standing commitments which preclude my being able to be with you.

If possible, I should appreciate it very much if General Cabell could attend in my stead. If this is agreeable with you, will you please let me know so I can advise him.

With every best wish.

Faithfully,

MEMORANDUM FOR: Mr. Dulles

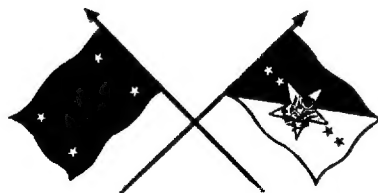

I understand that General Lemnitzer spoke to Bob Amory about this Army weapons demonstration and it is probable that General Lemnitzer will arrange for Bob, [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] to attend in addition to General Cabell.

General Cabell said he would be very much interested in going.

ORIENTATION AND DEMONSTRATION
OF THE U.S. ARMY'S CAPABILITY FOR SUSTAINED LAND COMBAT

2-4 May 1960

Fort Benning, Georgia

"Project MAN"

The purpose of this event is to acquaint key members of the executive branch, senior commanders, industrial representatives, and informational media with the U.S. Army's capability for sustained land combat in any type of war—limited or general.

The program includes the demonstration and exhibiting of almost two hundred items of equipment that are either operational, available only in limited quantities, or in the research and development stage.

Since only a limited number of invitations is available, your prompt consideration and reply would be appreciated.

Dear Friend Allen:

By now you have probably received our invitation to attend PROJECT MAN to be conducted at Fort Benning, Georgia, during the period 2 - 4 May. I sincerely hope that you will be able to be with us at that time.

The primary purpose of this occasion is to enable key members of the Executive Branch and Department of Defense agencies, and certain prominent civilians outside of government, to keep abreast of the capabilities of the Army for sustained land combat. To make this event as productive as possible, we plan to demonstrate and exhibit many weapons and a wide range of equipment. Toward this end, some of our new materiel will be exhibited for the first time.

Although good weather is anticipated at Fort Benning at this time of year, I suggest that you bring a light raincoat in the event of seasonal showers. You will, of course, be provided with quarters at Fort Benning, as well as air transportation from Washington on 2 May and return on 4 May. Informality will be the order of the day -- to include the planned social functions.

I am sure that you will find this event extremely interesting and informative, and I am personally looking forward to seeing you at Fort Benning.

With regards and best wishes,

Sincerely,

Wilber M. Brucker
Secretary of the Army
